

If we simulate, a lot could go into the simulator.

For interacting species, what does theory say we cannot leave out?